Won't Rehire

may be faced with if a teacher is retained and then dismissed when not needed next year.

Maloney commented, "Yes, you will have flexibility in rehiring and no legal liabilities but it will be hard on the individual staff member who may not want to stick it out in Cohasset."

Doris Lehage, a spokesman for the Teachers Association, said, "This can also have an effect on educational program. It is hard on morale and hard to work when you're wondering what you're going to do in September. Waiting until June or July to hear is very difficult."

Mary O'Brien, a parent, noted that last summer some late resignations of teachers were received which necessitated last minute interviewing and hiring.

A compromise of sorts was suggested by Committee member Josephine Mahoney for the superintendent to recommend as early as possible or sometime in May the rehiring of necessary teachers.

The committee voted to rehire tenured staff in all grades.

Town Meeting

In addition Place noted the importance of the articles dealing with the Civil Service change in the Police Department and the zoning by-law changes which will affect the business districts.

Article 44 requests the town to empower Selectmen to petition the General Court to exempt future members of the Police Department from Civil Service regulations. Article 71, submitted by the Planning Board, requests a change in required area of a Highway District business lot from 10,000 square feet to 40,000 feet. An increase in frontage from 50 to 200 feet is also included as well as are many other increases in area requirements. Article 64 also requests changes for the area of a business lot in the Downtown District which would increase area from 0 to 5,000 square feet and frontage from 20 to 50 feet, width from 20 to 50 feet, with the rest of the current requirements remaining the same.

Drama Workshop

put in nicely. "Isn't it nice that we can see a theatrical production with a simple set, costumes, etc., and still have a high quality performance with imagination and charm."

The workshop cast includes: Kathleen Collins, Beth Donahue, Meri Fink, Jon Foell, David Hanlon, Scot Muir, Lisa

O'Toole, Disa Pratt, Judy Vanderlugt, Jim Vivian and Jerry White.

They will continue on to the drama festival in Vermont April 19-21. The festival is not competition, but a showcase with performances and workshops, of the best high school drama this year. A New England cast will be chosen.

cedent will be set to let outside agencies hire school employees."

Maloney said further that the 48 students who are in the METCO program in Cohasset receive the same quality education and school curriculum as do all students.

Committee Chairman Doris Golden concurred with Maloney on METCO students and said their programs differ in no way from those of others. "They are one. They are a part of the Cohasset school system."
